

Return form

We believe in the quality of the products we sell, but sometimes things may not work as we imagined. Wilderoben customers have the right to return the purchased goods following the current complaint procedure of the store.

How to return:

- Fill in the form electronically and send it to our email address: hello@wilderoben.com. We prefer this method because it is faster and saves the environment
- Print the form, fill it out, attach it to the claimed goods and send it to the address of our shop:
